DETAILED ACTION

Response to RCE

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114.

Applicant's submission filed on 6-25-2008 has been entered. Claim 1 has been amended.

Applicant's comments directed to the 112, 1st paragraph and to the 102 rejections applied in the previous Office Action are noted and persuasive, thus, those rejections have been withdrawn.

The claims, as amended, have been carefully studied and are rejected as follows.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1, 4, 12, and 23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Reiley et al (U.S. Patent No. 6,248,110). Reiley et al discloses in Figures 1 and 2 a vertebral body (26) includes an exterior forms from compacted cortical bone (28) which encloses an interior volume (30) of cancellous bone (32). Figure 4 illustrates a tool (48) comprising a hollow catheter tube (50) including a circumferential wall.

With regards to the distal end recited in claim 1, the hollow catheter tube (50) has a distal end (54), as shown in Figure 4.

With regards the extension protruding from the circumferential wall and beyond the distal end, according to applicant's the specification on page 15 lines 6-7, the extension is the platform, structurally. In addition, the specification on page 15 lines 16-17 discloses the platform (220) could be formed integrally with the hollow member (210), thus, for purposes of broad interpretation of the latter disclosure, it is reasonable for one skilled in the art to interpret the Reiley's Figure 5k(1) is consistent with applicant's specification. See illustration below.

Figure 5K(1) illustrates the catheter (50) introduced into the interior volume (30) occupied in the cancellous bone (32) and the expandable body (56) expanding on one side of the distal end of the catheter (50).

Figure 5K(1) illustrates the platform/extension induce the expandable body (56) from expanding in more than one direction and expanding from the distal end towards the platform/extension. Figure 7 illustrates the injector tip (90) occupying in cavity (84) while the expandable body (56) collapses and the injector tip (90) injects filler material into the cavity (84).

With regards to claim 12, bone filling material, such as artificial bone substitute or flowable synthetic bone material or methyl methacrylate bone cement is known in the art of bone filling.

The Reiley et al device would perform steps recited in method claim 1.
